

P-CON V

The Phoenix Convention, now in its fifth year, is a literary event with an emphasis on the genres of science fiction, fantasy and horror.

Guest Of Honour at this year's convention is C.E. Murphy. Joining her as guests are: Eugene Bryne, Michael Carroll, Raven Dane, Chris Dolley, Diane Duane, George Green, Colin Harvey, Inge Heyer, John Kenny, Conor Kostick, Frank Ludlow, Oisín McGann, Juliet E McKenna, Leah Moore, Peter Morwood, Dave Murphy, Kim Newman, Bob Nielson, John Reppion, John W Sexton, Brian J Showers, Charlie Stross and John Vaughan.

The venue for the 2008 convention is the Central Hotel, on Exchequer Street in the heart of Dublin, a city renowned for its literary giants. The event is a great opportunity to meet and mingle with some of today's greatest authors, as well as the up and coming greats.

Guest of Honour: C.E. Murphy

March 29th / 30th March 2008

Central Hotel, Dublin

The Phoenix Convention is a mixture of discussion, chat, serious debate and not forgetting the fun & craic. Topics covered in prior years covered subjects as diverse as Dr. Who, colonisation of space, publishing, writing for young people and the meaning of Squee. So register now to become a member of P-Con V and we'll see you there in March 2008.
